Friends:

Jessica asked me to coordinate an e-introduction with all of you and Harkmore Lee. Harkmore is the Executive Director for Business Development and Community Outreach at the College of Professional and Global Education (PaGE) at California State University, Los Angeles – Downtown LA. He is focusing on workforce and professional development, and would like to reach out to you all to talk about how their new DTLA campus can become the educational hub for our growing downtown LA community.

I have attached Harkmore's contact information and cc'd him on this email. Please feel free to reach out to him. Many thanks!

Best regards,

Shawn
